Haryana's HEEP 2020 stamp-duty reimbursement concerned duty paid on a qualifying land transaction for the enterprise. Its value depends on the applicable policy and the actual stamp duty paid, not on the entire purchase price of the property.

The June 2021 Haryana Stamp Duty Refund Scheme under HEEP 2020 differentiated block and enterprise categories and linked several benefits to commencement of commercial production within five years of the land purchase. Buying industrial land did not complete the claim conditions on its own.

Policy period and present-day use

This explanation covers the notification issued under HEEP 2020. Haryana notified its Progressive MSME & Export Promotion Policy on 29 July 2026, expressly superseding HEEP 2020. An older claim and a new investment therefore need separate checks of the transition provisions, relevant dates and operative scheme instructions. The historic benefit below should not be entered as an assured receipt in a new project budget.

Connect the land to the operating project

For a claim, the sale deed, stamp-duty payment and land particulars need to connect to the enterprise and the project for which support is sought. Check the purchaser's legal identity, the property's permitted use and the date the qualifying business began production.

The original notification provided different percentages for categories including general MSMEs, thrust sectors and other specified enterprises. A rate quoted for one category should not be used for a different business. Lease-related or sector-policy assistance also needs its own source rather than being inferred from a land-purchase provision.

Records to preserve

Keep the registered instrument, duty-payment receipt, ownership history, project registrations, land-use records, commercial-production evidence and earlier incentive approvals together. If a business is expanding, show which land and investment relate to the expansion. Where another entity bought the property, assess the legal relationship before assuming the operating company can claim the duty.

Prepare the claim against the applicable notification and submit through the prescribed departmental process. Retain the application acknowledgement and any deficiencies or orders. An amount should remain a claim under consideration until the authority has actually sanctioned or disbursed it.

Can I deduct the anticipated reimbursement from the amount payable at registration?

A reimbursement claim does not itself authorise paying less at registration. Any upfront exemption needs its own legal basis and required approval.

Is land-use permission covered by the reimbursement?

No. Stamp-duty support and permission to use land are separate. See Approvals & Compliance for the project's approval requirements.
