The EV Employment Generation Subsidy is a Haryana Electric Vehicle Policy provision for qualifying manufacturing units in B, C and D blocks. It concerns employment of qualifying Haryana residents and is separate from the broader HEEP Employment Generation Scheme.

The workforce record is central

The 2022 policy describes annual assistance linked to eligible employees, their Haryana residence and valid ESI or PF details. Employment on payroll and qualifying contract arrangements need documentary support. The company's overall headcount is not the same as the number of employees eligible for a particular annual claim.

The original policy also referred to a local-employment law. The operative legal position and any amended scheme conditions must be checked before applying that clause to a current claim. A historical percentage should not be treated as a current hiring instruction.

Prepare a defensible annual calculation

Reconcile employee joining and leaving dates, payroll, payment evidence, ESI or PF records and residence documentation for the relevant period. For contract staff, identify the actual employer, the unit served and the available contribution records. Avoid counting an employee twice across establishments or benefit heads.

The manufacturing unit's product eligibility, location, registrations and commercial-production evidence must also be established. Keep prior subsidy claims and sanction records together so the support period can be traced employee-year by employee-year.

Submit only against the operative employment-scheme notification and its claim-year instructions. Departmental scrutiny determines the accepted headcount and eligible amount; the staffing plan is not evidence of employment already generated.

Does hiring a Haryana resident create an automatic payment?

No. The unit, employee, period and filing conditions all need to qualify. The benefit is not a substitute for paying wages or statutory contributions when due.

Policy source and application status

The notified Haryana Electric Vehicle Policy, 2022 establishes this assistance category. Its stated five-year period and the existence of a policy provision do not establish that a particular application slot remains available. Check the operative scheme notification, amendments and departmental application instructions before committing expenditure on the expectation of support.
